Stunning and Evocative Voices Come Together in Nonwhite and Woman: 131 Micro Essays on Being in the World

She is not white—she is not #somethingelse.
“Haz’a,” Shaina A. Nez

Woodhall Press is proud to announce the release of Nonwhite and Woman: 131 Micro Essays on Being in the World.

Editors Darien Hsu Gee and Carla Crujido bring together 131 personal narratives written by established and emerging women of color. In 300 words or less, these true stories speak to otherness, familial relationships, impossible beauty standards, ancestral heritage, coming of age, and owning one’s place in the world. This singular collection, inspired by Lucille Clifton’s luminous poem, won’t you celebrate with me, sings to the beauty of how these women live and thrive in the world, and how they make their lives their own.

I wore my Koreanness like a tight dress.
“Broad Margins,” Eugenia Kim

This anthology includes author commentaries, discussion questions for further exploration, resources for additional reading, and a guide to writing micro essays. Perfect for personal or classroom use; downloadable book club and teaching guides available on website.

They do not know mixed children can stare in the mirror for hours, wondering which side to blame. Which side to thank.
“Origin,” Karen Rigby
